

had no statement to make, and with that hurried from the building.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Heney, when asked for a statement replied:

"It would be a big mistake to make any statement at this time. It is our business to guard especially against publication."

Supervisor Sanderson, who though a young man, is in feeble health, was accompanied from the police station to the grand jury room by his physician, Dr. A. J. Villain.

Sanderson when surrounded by the newspaper men made pathetic appeal not to be questioned or quoted.

He said this was not on his own behalf but for the sake of his aged mother, who has suffered greatly through several tragic happenings of recent occurrences in the lives of her three sons.

After the grand jury session, Sanderson was taken in an automobile to the ferry by Detective Burke.

PROBE SINKS DEEPLY.

The officials and capitalists of Los Angeles connected with the Home Telephone Company of that city and of San Francisco are being probed today with but one story. When they left, the probe of Langdon and Heney had sunk deeply.

The men from Los Angeles were confronted by the testimony of Dr. Ferdinand Butterfield, who has already been before the grand jurors and who was an early witness in the afternoon. The evidence of Dr. Butterfield was vital to the Home Telephone Company and related details of which they were cognizant.

When told of Butterfield's testimony, the telephone officials explained in detail the transactions that caused the withdrawal of an immense sum of money from the coffers of the Los Angeles company to be used "in negotiations with the Supervisors of San Francisco."

Dr. Butterfield was formerly in the field to accuse a local telephone permit from the Board of Supervisors. At that time he was acting solely on his own account and had no connection with the United States Independent Telephone Company, although it was understood that the independent company was interested in Butterfield's campaign.

"Were you at any time approached by any one with the offer of a franchise if you would furnish the necessary amount of money?" asked Heney.

BUTTERFIELD'S TESTIMONY.

"I was approached by Abe Ruef, who told me there might be a franchise secured for a local independent telephone company, provided that company would pay the required price," answered Butterfield.

"Did Ruef demand the money and did he say how it would be used?"

"Ruef asked for an attorney fee over $100,000 for his services in securing a telephone franchise for me. I also believe the United States Independent Company received a similar offer. There was to be no difficulty, provided the attorney's fee was paid."

The Home Telephone capitalists of Los Angeles were crestfallen and worried. It was not the fear of indictment that drove President Cass of the Home Telephone Company of Los Angeles from the grand jury room and caused him to flee. He was the authority for the statement that no Los Angeles man will be indicted on the Cass-Taylor case.

But Cass is president of the Home Telephone Company, and with the evidence of the grand jury case it is declared that the valuable franchise which men under Cass secured by the "judicious efforts of attorney Ruef" can be taken from the company, and the thousands of dollars that Cass and his colleagues have invested in the company will be lost beyond recall.

CASS IS AGITATED.

Cass, in addition to his presidency of the Home Telephone Company, is president of the Cass-Taylor Telephone Company of Los Angeles and a contentious and active church worker. He was in the state of utter collapse when he left the jury room. He rushed into the street in a frantic manner and in answer to the questions hurled at him shouted in a frenzy: "Gentlemen, for God's sake leave me alone! I have nothing to say."

GLASS PLEADS TODAY.

Judge Lawlor in the Superior Court, will call General Manager Glass to plead to the nine bribery indictments tomorrow morning. Glass was asked tonight to state what his intention was to plead guilty, not guilty, or to evade any plea at this time and to attack the validity of the indictments.

He replied that he had no statement whatever to make, and referred the question to his attorney. The latter said:

"It would be unwise for us to make any statement now. Whether we shall plead to the indictments or deny them by demurrer will be known tomorrow morning, when the cases are called. This in all we are prepared to say tonight."

THOSE SUPERVISORS.

The eighteen members of the board of Supervisors, having been freed in the purging waters of immunity, are industriously engaged in an effort to restore themselves to good standing in political and social circles by shouting "most vehemently" that they have "done nothing for which they could be indicted."

The point of view adopted by the Supervisors through the grand jury general grant situation. The Supervisors are pointing out that they did not receive the rewards of their perjury in some cases, but in others, three months after they had voted for the franchises or privileges in question. It is said that the money paid the individual Supervisors for the overhead trolley franchise was not turned over until three months after the ordinance granting the privilege was finally passed.

The information is advanced on behalf of some of the Supervisors that they had no explicit understanding regarding the graft in this connection, merely being possessed of a "hunch" that there would be something doing if the programme went through.

Not having agreed to barter their votes for a large amount, and having simply accepted a "present" in the vision of the swag, the Supervisors are resenting the suggestion that they were bribed in this particular transaction.

Some are even boastfully handing out the tip that the prosecution could find no law to reach them on bribery charges, and that this explains why they have been given immunity.

ZEALOUS PENITENCE.

So great is the zeal of the regenerated Supervisors that they are considering the revival of the question of taking the Geary-street railroad into public ownership and making a first class underground electric trolley line.

The reformed board of Supervisors displayed its first symptom of newly-acquired grace by causing the removal of Alexander O'Grady, who was being paid $250 a month for doing nothing under the designation of legal advisor to the Board of Supervisors.

O'Grady at one time was a police commissioner. He was retired at the same time Commissioner Pohelm was declared out.

Pohelm's real offense, in the eyes of the administration, was doing a little "business" on his past account. The public charge against Pohelm was that he was engaged in the glassware business, and his business was such, which condition was prejudicial to a "good and pure administration." As O'Grady was a partner of Pohelm in the glassware trade, he, of course, had to go, too.

But O'Grady knew all about the manipulations of the Police Commissioner by Schultz and Reed. Reagan and Drinkhouse, who had previously been retired, also possessed the same knowledge. O'Grady was to have joined Reagan and Drinkhouse as witnesses for the prosecution of municipal graft.

"If I do not get my appointment by tomorrow I will be with you," is said to have been O'Grady's ultimatum.

His appointment as attorney to the Supervisors was made the next day, and his mouth was closed.

WILL IT OPEN?

His removal from that position has been caused by the prosecution. Whether this will open the mouth of former Police Commissioner O'Grady and cause him to remember things he could not a few months back, is a question in process of solution.

At the time Supervisors are much in the position of eighteen convicts paroled from San Quentin. They are looking about for some one to shake hands with them, and feel so grateful for their escape that they would even under some of their past acts if they thought they might be able to rehabilitate themselves in a measure by so doing.

It is said that if so instructed, the Supervisors would rescind their resolution confiscating the Spring Valley Water Works. The purified Supervisors have been informed that five companies that entered the competition for supplying San Francisco with water for domestic and municipal purposes were obliged to pay $25,000 each before their names were entered on the "preferred" list. AMBASSADOR IS INTERESTED.

Asks Goldfield Priest to Investigate Murder.

Wants Full Report on Killing of Podhorski.

Friends of Slayer Combine to Offset Russians.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) March 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A telegram to Father James Dermody, Roman Catholic priest in Goldfield, from the Russian Ambassador at Washington requests a thorough investigation of the facts surrounding the killing of Count Constantine Podhorski on March 21 in Goldfield by John C. Hines and that he forward to Washington a full report as soon as possible.

Upon hearing of this the Alaska colony in Goldfield, to a man the friends of Hines, organized and appointed a committee to make investigation of the killing of Podhorski, who was slain by Hines and Dermody, and to present to the State Department through him a report of the facts of the case.

Friends and relatives of the late Count will make a large fund for the prosecution of Hines and will be backed by the Russian government representative in Alaska.

On the other hand the Hines following is thoroughly organized and commands unlimited capital. Justification is being sought for the killing of Podhorski.

Followers of the Greek church in Russia burned the ancestral home of Podhorski at Moscow, when he was in the city, and the Hines following is thoroughly organized and commands unlimited capital. Justification is being sought for the killing of Podhorski.

CAR AGAINST CAR, MEN AGAINST MEN, BOTH AGAINST NATURE, TODAY'S RACE.

TWO automobiles start from Los Angeles this morning in a contest different from any other ever attempted—more dangerous, more picturesque, calling for more courage, endurance and strength than any of the famous road-races of Europe. Rivalry between the cars, rivalry between the men who drive them, is subordinated to a fiercer rivalry with old Dame Nature. To reach San Francisco, quickly if possible, sooner than the other car if human endurance and skill can accomplish it, but at all events to reach San Francisco, dominates the two crews. They do not expect to sleep until they complete their task, hardly expect to eat. The wagers that have been made would not pay them for a fraction of the suffering they will undergo. For the honor of their cars, these eight men are deliberately facing a desperate day and night dash over flooded valleys and mountain passes where cloud-bursts have left mile-long scars instead of roads. A path-finding car a week ago was forced to make 144 fords in eleven miles. What steady rains have since done to that road, no man knows. The first sixty miles will try the nerves like a battle charge. There are fords after fords, washouts in every form, for miles not an inch of real road. The drivers face fifty battles in a mile, a thousand nerve-racking problems in an hour.

The starter's sharp command of "Go!" this morning at 4:30 o'clock will mark the beginning of a race without parallel in America—a race wherein men will fight not so much against their opponents, as against floods and landslides, mud, hunger and cold and the biting wind. That command will start on the long road to San Francisco an automobile. Thirty minutes thereafter another automobile will shoot after the first. They will fight the mud and the rain, the mountain passes and the water-covered plains of the San Joaquin Valley in a desperate effort to reach San Francisco first.

day contests on the road and the twenty-five-mile events on the track. He is small of stature but so strong he might be properly called the chrome-nickel steel kid. And for an automobile driver he has too much nerve and courage. Steel will not stand what "Wild Bill" wants it to do. With Dingley he lowered the Los Angeles to Santa Barbara record to less than four hours elapsed time for the 110 miles.

Why are these men ready to do this race death perhaps? RIVALRY—THERE'S THE RUB. There has for a long time been rivalry between two makes of automobiles—the Pope-Hartford and the Oldsmobile. On the Pacific Coast this culminated some time ago in challenge for a race from Los Angeles to San Francisco. At the time the challenge was made, good roads were expected. The rains descended, the floods came, and the route as a consequence are not. The race has been once postponed for this reason. Another postponement might have been, but now the blood of the drivers is up. Besides their opponents, there is a greater foe to conquer—old Dame Nature herself. These men want to show what they can do with an automobile. What they have got to do few can realize. Even in summer time, an overland trip to San Francisco is a matter of four days, taken at usual speed. At this time of the year it is much more formidable. This particular time it seems an impossible thing for any machine to go through. Six and eight-horse hitches are mired in axle-deep adobe where once the roads were. There is snow in the passes, rain in the lowlands, floods everywhere. Where in summer are the yellowing wheat fields of the great San Joaquin, there is now a lake sixty-five miles long.

Against these things are pitted the two cars and their crews. The cars are much alike in general type—hence their rivalry. The crews are different. The four men who will take the Pope-Hartford over the road are all giants, men of great muscle, used to hardship. To show how they expect to get through a light place in the road, yesterday these men each took a wheel of their car and lifted it clear from the ground. They fully anticipate carrying the car through mud if they have to. The car weighs about a ton. The crew of the Pope-Hartford would attract attention anywhere. Bert Dingley, the youngest, is a quiet unassuming young Californian, who has already made a name as a driver of automobiles though in his early twenties. He has taken part in two Vanderbilt cup races, and drove in the Gordon-Bennett in France. His father is Sheriff of Stanislaus county and the people of Modesto take great pride in young Dingley. He passes through his home town tomorrow evening, and it is said that the senior Dingley, who is but 45 years old himself, is waging a little sun on his son.

SNOW COVERS RIVERSIDE.

White Blanket of Two Inches' Thickness Settles Over the Valley.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] RIVERSIDE, March 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Not in twenty-five years has such a white mantle settled over the landscape here as that which wrapped the valley with two inches of snow this afternoon.

If was accompanied with a thunderstorm and hail. Lightning struck the electric transmission line, putting the trolley system out of commission, and setting fire to two houses.

Snowballing was in vogue for about half an hour and Riverside people, old and young alike, made the most of the unaccustomed sport.

The government rain gauge shows a precipitation of .75 inch of rain and melted snow for the day and .549 inches for the storm. The total for the season is 16.81 inches.

Fruit buds are reported to have been injured by the storm.

MERCURY GOES LOW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN BERNARDINO, March 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The temperatures at midnight were:

San Bernardino, 23 deg.

Redlands, 40 deg.

Colton, 41 deg.

Highland, 40 deg.

The mercury is rapidly falling, and the indications are for a freeze destructive to tender vegetation.

Oranges are considered safe. The sky is cloudless. There is no breeze.

DEATH COMES PAINLESSLY.

Joseph D. Lynch, the Veteran Editor, Passes Away at the Sisters' Hospital.

Joseph D. Lynch, the pioneer editor, died at the Sisters' Hospital at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The end came painlessly, and followed a period of unconsciousness which had continued most of the time since the day before.

On Tuesday Mr. Lynch received several letters from his daughter in Massachusetts, the contents of which greatly pleased him. He realized his condition and told some of his friends that he knew his end was approaching. He also told them he was ready to go. After reading the letters he dropped into a deep sleep and from that time until he breathed his last, he was unconscious most of the time.

The remains were taken to the undertaking rooms of Cunningham & O'Connor, No. 1031 South Grand avenue. The funeral will be held Friday, but the details have not been arranged. Inasmuch as that is Good Friday, the services probably cannot be held at the Cathedral. The interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, on Boyce Heights, Bishop Conally having given a burial plot for that purpose.

BISHOP OF LISBON HERE.

First Portuguese Diocesan Head to Visit America Now a Guest in Los Angeles.

Bishop Henrique de Silva of Lisbon, Portugal, the first Portuguese bishop to visit America, arrived in Los Angeles last night, accompanied by the Count of Santa Eulalia, who is Consul for the Portuguese government, with headquarters in Chicago.

Bishop Silva came to America primarily to be present at the dedication of a Portuguese Catholic church in Providence, R. I., and there met Bishop Conally of Los Angeles. The right reverend guest had planned a visit to the Coast, and at the urgent request of Bishop Conally made Los Angeles his principal stopping place. The party registered at the Alexandria, but Bishop Conally spirited the visiting ecclesiastic away and will entertain him during his stay in this city.

RIO MOJAVE ON RAMPAGE.

Barstow Smelters Menaced and Stream is Headed for Death Valley.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN BERNARDINO, March 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Overloaded with a mighty volume of water from the rains and snows of the mountains pouring down its numerous tributaries, the Mojave River is on a rampage.

The Santa Fe and Salt Lake Railroad companies have hundreds of men trying to save the roadbeds and bridges while the flow grows stronger and stronger and farmers and mine owners are employing men in an effort to save their property.

The hardest fight is at Barstow, where the settling vats of the Barstow smelters are in danger. The river has taken to a new channel which, as far as the memory of any one recalls, it has never run in before, and is headed for

"While the bad roads are a drawback, I do not marvel that Los Angeles and Southern California have grown so wonderfully. The strange thing to me is that the growth has not been even greater. In this magnificent location, midway between the mountains and the sea, and with this marvelous climate, despite the moisture of the present season, there is every reason to believe that this eventually will become the most populous home place in the United States. I am convinced that Los Angeles will become the greatest city on the Pacific Coast.

"I have been coming here for the winter season ever since 1895. I have seen the tourist tide grow from a comparatively small beginning, and I am convinced it will continue to grow each succeeding year. It may be a trite saying, but your tourist crop is far more valuable to your country than your fruit or any other crop. But, like any other crop, the soil should be cultivated. You have furnished plenty of water this season; you should furnish the right kind of streets and country roads. It will pay, even as it is, your tourist visitors are your best advertisers. Your excellent hotels are a wonderful help. Turning to the development of the great Northwest, Mr. Thompson, who went there as a youth twenty-five years ago and began work at $5 a week, told of the marvelous strides that have been made by that section of the country. He has watched its wonderful growth; has grown with it until now he is one of its most prosperous citizens. Southern California is only his playground.

"The growing political independence of our people," he said, "is responsible, I believe, for the prosperity of our section of the country. We have a 'syndicate' in our State Legislature that seems to be akin to your 'machine' here, although it is conducted on somewhat different lines. But, strongly Republican as we are, we now have, and occasionally in the past have had, a Democratic Governor.

"An effort is under way in our State to force the railroads to grant a 2-cent fare law. I believe this is a mistake at this time. It would be all right if the railroads were allowed to combine. But so long as there is competition, I believe this restrictive legislation should not be passed. It will be harmful, I believe, to transportation and to the interests of the people."

For Whom Is Life Insurance?

It is not for the rich, nor the independent, nor the selfish. It is for the man who recognizes responsibility; for the man who will discriminate—who will take the money he needs for other things and put it in Life Insurance because he sees that the protection of his loved ones after his departure is the greatest need of all. Such a man is worth insuring, and such a man should be sure of his insurance.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

offers such a man something as good as gold; a bond of the United States could be no better. Its policies give the maximum of security at the minimum of cost. In sixty-four years of history it has paid more money to beneficiaries than any other Company in the world. If you have obligations, if your life means something to others, insurance is for you. Investigate the cost of absolute protection in the Mutual Life.

The Time to Act is NOW.

LID IS NOT ON TO STAY.

Raids of Tenderloin Only a Means to an End.

Social Evil to Be Confined to One District.

Redlight Section in Agony of Uncertainty.

Disturbing the disorderly houses of Los Angeles will come as a result of the Police Commission's present campaign, unless plans miscarry. The "lid" will not stay on the trouble and unrest, now in the air, may continue to hover over the homes of the city's scarlet women for some time to come.

Tuesday night's raid was followed last night by a fright. Half the dives in the city were closed. In the other half the women were fearful of a second raid in the patrol wagon. No one knew where the raid would be. Apparently no one is going to know for some time to come.

On North Main, North San Pedro, Commercial and Main streets, the results were especially felt. In Fort Savage's two houses, the Arlington and the Belmont, a scant half dozen women had been. Savage spent some time in the City Hall during the evening waiting to see the mayor and make his peace. He had knowledge of the raid's coming and had been waiting for it. He got a few minutes' rest with the executive. Then he departed.

In the present situation are many complications. The question of who will handle the social evil is one of these. The police and the District Attorney are factors. Appearances would go to indicate that the administration is in a measure feeling its way toward the ultimate result. At least it is going slowly. But belief is widespread that the disorderly houses of Los Angeles will be distributed within three months' time. And this idea obtains in high places.

It was dawn when the last of Tuesday night's unfortunate raid was being carried out. The police station yesterday morning to answer to charges of vagrancy. Seated women, who have a pathetic story to tell if they would, and women who have passed even the stage of sadness and are hardened in vice, rubbed elbows. None of the "exclusives" was in evidence. They chose to forfeit the bail ($15 in each instance) and forego an appearance in court.

Three hundred of the demimonde packed the Police Court and corridors yesterday morning to answer to charges of vagrancy. Seated women, who have a pathetic story to tell if they would, and women who have passed even the stage of sadness and are hardened in vice, rubbed elbows. None of the "exclusives" was in evidence. They chose to forfeit the bail ($15 in each instance) and forego an appearance in court.

When the last of the painted creatures had been crowded within the doors of Justice Chambers' court, the spectators' benches, the prisoners' dock and the inclosure directly in front of the bar was filled. The "exclusives" might have seated the crowd of loafers who were excluded. As a her name was called, each woman was obliged to stand and hear the charge. With but few exceptions they pleaded guilty.

The first three or four women pleaded not guilty, and saw before them a wait of many days. Tedious hours spent in court, and at the end, a long trial by jury. Others, who had been posted, pleaded guilty, and acknowledged the charge against them. These were each fined $30. As this amount is less than the bail money offered by the macabre for the appearance of the women, Clerk Martin returned to each $30, and they disappeared.

The absence of the parasites who live off the earnings of the wretched women was a marked feature of the scene. In the corridors and on the sidewalks outside Central Station these owners of the women waited for the results. Devilish-faced vagrants, far more guilty than the women, hung around West First street yesterday afternoon as the women tramped out of the court, and took them back to their lodgings.

"OLD PENN" MEN CHEER.

Enthusiasm Rampant at Jolly Alumni Dinner at Angellus-Officers Elected.

An enthusiastic banquet and business session of the University of Pennsylvania Alumni Society of Southern California was held last night in the banquet hall of the Angellus.

There are seventy-five graduates of the famous Pennsylvania institution in this vicinity, and thirty were present. The color scheme was red and blue, the colors of "Old Penn," and barked about the room were hundreds of carnations and violets, also carrying out the color scheme. College cheers and college songs were indulged in vigorously, and threatened at one time to retard the banquet. The enthusiasm of the members could hardly be restrained.

Figures were introduced after the banquet, which showed that "Old Penn" had increased in percentage of new students more than any other institution of its kind in the United States. These figures brought forth more enthusiasm.

The following officers were elected: President, Dr. Charles G. Stevens; vice-president, Titian J. Coffey; secretary-treasurer, Dr. T. Perovall Gerson.

room. Crowbars, tackles, hundreds of feet of steel cable, picks and shovels, measured this and that, consulted catalogues, and assured themselves that the cars were entirely stock cars, as required by the conditions of the race. Then the cars were put under guard, and until they face the tape no one will tamper with them.

Originally the race was to be run under forty hours, or run again. It will be a triumph for either car to reach San Francisco at all under present conditions, in no matter what time, so the forty-hour limit has been removed. One condition is imposed, however. The cars must both pass through Bakersfield, Fresno, Merced, Tracy and Livermore on their way to San Francisco.

This morning at 4 o'clock a coin will be tossed to see which car starts first. At 4:30 the first machine will be started from the corner of Third street and Broadway. A half hour later the second one will go out.

What they have before them is made clear by reports from those sent ahead to spy out the land. Each side has men in waiting all along the 500 miles. From them last night came telegrams reading: "Snowing on Tejon Pass." "Raining at Bakersfield." "Mad is axle-deep at Modesto." "Three feet of water on road north of Fresno."

The race is between the Oldsmobile and the Pope-Hartford, but a third car has butted in at the last moment. A. J. Smith, president of the Dealers' Association, is going to follow the two cars in a four-cylinder Elmore. His car is fitted with cable, tackle, shovel and sleds, and he says he is willing to bet that he will go through in fifty hours. He is not racing the other two, but is going against their performance, and hopes to do better than they do. With Smith are D. C. Rose and G. D. Dake, and at Bakersfield, C. W. Hobson will be added.

A great crowd was at both garages yesterday, inspecting the cars and showering good wishes and advice on the drivers. Betting was comparatively light, and the additional wagers, all at even money, makes the total amount bet approximately $10,000.

FIGHT ON OLIVES.

Chamber of Commerce Will Battle Free Admission Because of Danger to Local Industry.

The local Chamber of Commerce has taken up the fight against the free admission of olives into this country. Yesterday afternoon the board of directors sent the following telegram to J. L. Gerry, chief of the customs division at Washington: "Importing olives in brine is identical with importing prepared fruit, and if permitted without paying duty will probably wipe out the olive industry in this country."

The Chamber has received notice from Capt. Amos Fries that the new river and harbor act provides for an examination of the San Pedro breakwater, with a view to its extension to the shore, and also of the "Inner Harbor," with a view to increasing its depth. Views in writing will be received on Monday, April 1.

These new members were elected yesterday: G. E. Hazard, Joseph Langnickel, R. E. Ibbotson, C. R. Brown, J. Frank Walter, W. Edward Wamsley, Rosa Oscillating Pump Company, and the Arizona Turquoise Mines Company.

Business Meeting—William

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

A SURPRISE to many friends came the marriage of Miss Mabel Reynolds, a beauty of the city, to A. B. Ebnor, of Honolulu. The wedding took place yesterday at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Reynolds, No. 425 South Burlington avenue.

Only the immediate family was present. Dr. Robert McIntyre officiated. The young bride was attired in her traveling suit of a becoming shade of green silk, and a hat of soft green rested on the pale gold of her hair. She carried a shower of violets. Miss Mildred Thomas, a close friend of the bride, played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" and Misses Etchemendy to leave. The Misses Mariana and Carrie Etchemendy of No. 21 North Hope street expect to leave next Tuesday for Boston, and from there will sail for a six-month trip to Europe, visiting while there, Spain, France, England, Germany and Italy.

Mrs. Davis is Hostess. Mrs. Sol Davis of West Seventh street was hostess at a very charming little tea given as a compliment to Mrs. Alice M. Smith of San Diego, who is her house guest. Mrs. Smith has been a number of days with Mrs. Davis, and expects to leave on Saturday for her home.

Among the guests of the afternoon

In honor of Mrs. Bartram the Los Angeles Alliance of the Delta Delta Delta Fraternity will entertain on Saturday. Mrs. Bartram was former president of the Alliance.

Honor Tom Karl. Mr. and Mrs. George J. Birkal entertained at dinner in compliment to Tom Karl. The table was decorated in pleasing fashion. On a centerpiece of rich China lace rested a mirror, bearing a cut-glass bowl filled with pink roses and ferns. Place cards were dainty affairs ornamented with flowers.

Those who enjoyed the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Birkal, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer, Gen. and Mrs. Robert Wankowski, Miss Maude E. Richards, Miss Florence Bonners, Miss Gertrude Prehall and Messrs. Deillon Dewey and Archibald Sessions.

Marshall's Soon to Leave. Mrs. Charles Marshall and Miss Pauline Marshall, who have spent the winter in Long Beach and Los Angeles, will leave soon for their home in Topelka, Kan. Miss Marshall's marriage to R. G. Voorhes of St. Joseph, Mo., will take place in April.

Mrs. and Miss Marshall have frequently visited with Mrs. J. M. Buttery, Miss Merrill and others here, and both have many friends to wish them bon voyage.

Mrs. Marshall is a prominent club woman of Kansas, and Miss Pauline has a more than local reputation as a talented pianist. The bride is the daughter of the late Mrs. Marshall and is only 18 years of age. Mr. Voorhes is a bright young newspaper man with a promising future.

Imes Takes Bride. On Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock Miss Marie Leake, daughter of Edward Leake, became the bride of Fred P. Imes, the ceremony being solemnized at the Vincent Methodist Episcopal Church, Twenty-ninth and Main streets, by Rev. E. C. Telle, officiating. Only relatives and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony, which was very quiet. After short four the couple will make their home in Los Angeles. The groom is connected with Pasadena Electric Express Company.

Giles-Harous Nuptials. Friends of W. F. Giles and Mrs. Hannah Harous will be pleased to learn of their marriage, which took place in Oakland. They were married at the home of Mrs. Kenworthy, Rev. E. C. Telle officiating. The bride is a successful kindergarten teacher in the city schools for the past ten years. Mr. Giles is vice-president and general manager of a stove company.

Craig's Party. Last evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Craig of No. 303 West Thirtieth street entertained most charmingly with an informal dancing party in compliment to their house guests, Mrs. Hugh Howland and Miss Irene Howland of Chicago. The home was beautifully decorated for the evening. Mustard blossoms in Indian baskets and jars, were most effective in the living room, and the bright scarlet carnations were most effective. The piano was banked with huckleberry boughs and scarlet bows.

Guests for the evening included: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rule, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunsenore, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holt of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. G. Johnson, and Mesdames Annie Taylor, Mayme Goodrich, Harriet Burke, Albert Wagner, and Misses Alice Johnson, Florence Chase, Genevieve Smith, Ada Johnson, Florence Stafford, Bird Chandler, Bessie Bedford, Estelle Hart, Louise Nixon Hill, Florence Hunt, Franklin Taylor, Jean Craib, Ruth Burke, and Messrs. Charles

Mr. Ebnor is a well-known young business man of Honolulu, and he and his bride left yesterday afternoon for the North, en route to their future home in Hawaii. The bride is attractive and popular, and ever since her engagement she has been showered with social functions.

The marriage was not to have taken place until June, but Mr. Ebnor has remained here since his announcement, and succeeded in persuading the pretty maid to be married now and return with him. It is with regret that her friends see her depart.

On Monday Mrs. E. W. Reynolds, mother of the bride, was hostess at a handsomely-appointed reception given as a compliment to her daughter and to Mr. Ebnor. The home was charmingly decorated, all the rooms being carpeted with apparatus, ferns, and depending from the canopies were wedding bells, matching the coloring utilized in the room. The parlor was in pale pink Echinacea carnations, and in the library red carnations graced the book cases and mantel. In the dining-room Easter lilies shed their fragrance from wall baskets and vases. Mrs. J. M. Jones, the harpist, rendered exquisite music through the reception hours.

Assisting the hostess in receiving were: Mesdames J. W. Gillette, S. P. Mulford, Ella Griswold and Misses Lily Oshausen, Mildred Thomas, Austen George, Irene Thomas, Marion Churchill and Mary Oliphant. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and their daughter also received in the evening, and a diversified programme of music was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ebnor, whose wedding yesterday is of interest to a large circle of friends.

ACCESSORIES FOR EASTERTIDE

The necessary things that complete your Easter toilette. To make sure of their correctness see that they come from the Ville. Here are a few timely suggestions, including some of the specialties for this special pre-Easter selling.

Ruffs and Scarfs—Feathers and Silks

Coque feather ruffs are favorites of the fashionably attired, and for this week we are making a special attraction of a special line at $2.50. Light blue, champagne, brown, white and gray; velvet ribbon ties.

BEAUTIFUL SCARFS of marabout, some combined with ostrich feathers, $2.00 to $30.00. Graceful ostrich bows, $10.00 and up.

DU BARRY SCARFS in crepe de chene and barred crepe, plain shades and fancies, $2 and upwards. An unusually handsome scarf that deserves special mention, of crepe de chene with Dresden designs in colors, at $4.00.

50c Ribbons 35c

Spring ribbons, Easter ribbons, ribbons for every purpose you can think of, with an extra special for the last three days of this week. All pure silk, satin taffeta and tulle, extra electric ribbons, in light and dark shades, also black, 5 and 6 in. wide, extra good at regular price, 50c yard; as an attraction for this week to go at 35c. This is a ribbon that is wanted most for girlish hair bows, millinery, etc. Bows tied free.

Parasol Special

All pure linen, allover embroidered parasols, embroidered scalloped edge, enameled frame, so that parasol may be washed, without removing frame; natural wood and fancy bamboo handles, finished with white cord and tassels; special at $2.50.

Handkerchief Sale

We place on sale this morning a line of dainty linen handkerchiefs that regularly sell at 35c each for 25c. Two styles, hem-stitched and embroidered and embroidered edge; very finest linen.

Easter Neckwear

Must be fine and dainty and for satisfactory selections come right to the Ville neckwear department. All the new concepts of the spring season are here in silk and linen stocks and collars. Pretty little swiss bows, to wear with linen collars, the new rabbit, stock with pleated and lace trimmed ruffs, etc., and for dressy wear exquisite creations of silk and lace.

Leather Bags

A leather bag special at $5.00; is of genuine goat seal, two strap handles; leather lined; fitted in black and colors; gilt and gun metal buckles. This lot also includes some very handsome back-strap bags of fancy goat, leather lined and fitted. Another extra good bag is featured at $2.50. Made of fine grain monkey skin and seal grain leather; leather lined and fitted; strap handles.

Leather Belts

Just received one line of leather belts, satin lined, in black and colors; gilt and gun metal buckles. Well made and handsome; unusually good at $1.25. WAIST BELTS of all pure linen, embroidered in many designs; gilt buckles; special at 50c.

It Costs No More To Wear The Best

Why be satisfied with anything short of the finest quality and leading style

All America recognizes Alfred Benjamin & Co. as the creator of men's fashions.

A mere glance satisfies you that these suits are altogether different in appearance—more character, more style, more individuality.

Special favor is shown the ultra-exclusive patterns, only a few suits of each, the most absolutely superb suits that were ever shown in Los Angeles.

Alfred Benjamin & Co's.

Clothing Is Sold Exclusively By Us

None of the commonness that results from a general distribution to department stores and miscellaneous clothing dealers.

It is a fact proved by the wide use of this clothing among the better class of dressers, who could easily afford to pay any tailor's price, that Alfred Benjamin suits are far more stylish and actually fit far better than any tailoring produced in Los Angeles.

Prices $18, $20, $22 and up to $50

With a gay, social season just ahead, you will doubtless be interested in the new Alfred Benjamin full-dress suits and tuxedos—the first correct spring evening attire shown in the city.

James Smith & Co.

Exclusive Distributors for Alfred Benjamin & Co.

137-139 South Spring Street

We have the honor to supply more well-dressed men with their attire than any other establishment in Southern California—we are the only store selling exclusively high grade clothing.

BUILD LARGER FOR OLD FOLK.

IMPROVEMENTS UNDER WAY AT HOLLENBECK HOME.

Applications on file from hundreds more than can be accommodated. Trustees seek long leases of Hollenbeck Hotel and Other Properties Held in Trust.

Work on the foundations of the large addition to the Hollenbeck Home, overlooking Hollenbeck Park and lake, will be commenced within a few days. The ground is now being cleared, many rare and beautiful plants and shrubs, and an old landmark in the form of a large and beautiful palm, being taken away.

The new building, which will stand between the present home and the residence of the superintendent, will have fifty-two rooms. It will be two stories high, built in the best possible manner of brick covered with cement, and will have a deep basement story, into which the boiler and engine-room and the heating plant will be transferred.

Just east of the new building will be constructed a chapel, in the form of a Greek cross, and connected by a corridor with the new building. A library will also be built in the court, between the north and south wings of the old building.

It may be remembered that some years ago Mrs. Hollenbeck decided to a board of trustees, of which John D. Bicknell is president, certain valuable properties for the support of the home. Among them are the Hollenbeck Hotel block, Second and Spring streets, and the Elizabeth Hollenbeck block on South Broadway, the latter being a six-story brick block, adjoining Bicknell's in the north. The title to these properties is in the trustees, the donor retaining a life interest, and in ten years the values have increased enormously, so that what were fair rentals at that time are now extremely low. The lease on the hotel block will expire within the next year and a half, and the trustees are receiving proposals for a fifty-year lease on both that and the Broadway block. The object in executing long leases is that they may have a fixed and definite income for the maintenance of the home.

Hollenbeck Home is not a charitable institution, in the general acceptance of the term, and it has none of the marks of such an institution. It is a beautiful place, under the most ideal conditions, where old ladies and gentlemen of retirement pay a stated sum for the privilege of making it their home. These sums do not anything like pay the expenses of the home.

It is an attractive and comfortable place of resort for tourists and people of the city. On a recent visitors' day 180 persons placed their names on the register, and the happy faces of the old folks and their cheery remarks make a visit of more than ordinary interest. When the new building is completed, fifty-four more may be accommodated, but it is a fact that not less than 500 applications are on file, and it can readily be seen that it would require several homes of the same size to accommodate them all.

HE NEEDS A REST.

New York Young Man Finds the West Too Strenuous and He's Going Back Today.

Vastly agitated, and carrying a bottle of smelling salts in his hand, Albert S. Dunn, a scion of a wealthy New York family, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, and feverishly registered at the Angelus.

He immediately inquired when the first train left for New York. Dunn has been in the "wild and woolly" West just four days. He spent one full day in Goldfield, Nev., and says he will never recover. His experiences have worked upon his nerves and he has decided to return to New York and seek a rest cure.

Dunn had nursed a secret but burning desire to break away from the wayward life of Gotham and seek quiet and rural simplicity in the West. He went to Goldfield. His indulgent parents, who desired the young man to gain some knowledge of the world at first hand, bundled him off to that famous camp.

Dunn arrived in Goldfield Thursday afternoon. He looked up a restaurant and ordered a good meal.

He was ruminating upon his boldness to come into the new West and leave Broadway, when the door opened. A large miner entered, unheralded. He was John C. Hines.

Dunn was turning his attention to his dinner, when a loud voice boomed forth, asking if there was a certain man in the place. Then a dark-haired, middle-aged individual arose and said he was the man wanted. Dunn's attention was focused on the proceedings. Suddenly there was a sharp report, and a bullet passed so close to his head that he heard the whirr. Then there were four more shots, and the dark-haired man crumpled into a quiet heap, and the newcomer stalked out.

Dunn did not run. He jumped. He leaped through the window, and took the next two miles at ten-foot strides. He rushed to his hotel and demanded that he be protected. The hotel men told him a little thing like that should not be noticed, as it was probably a personal matter.

Dunn's dream of a quiet rest amid rural scenes was shattered. He took the first train for Los Angeles, and demanded of the Angelus management that he be shown to a bomb-proof room. He will leave this morning for that dear old New York, where he can take his rest cure.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS.

France Realizes Critical State of Moroccan Trouble, but is Determined.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.) PARIS, March 27.—In official quarters here it is recognized that the Moroccan situation is serious, but the consensus of European opinion being favorable to France's action, a solution of the difficulties is regarded as being very simple and not likely to produce complications. The Sultan of Morocco is expected to yield promptly all claims formulated by the commander of the French armored cruiser Jeanne d'Arc, now at Tangier, as soon as he is convinced that the French attitude is inflexible, and that France has the unanimous support of the powers.

Dispatches received from Gen. Llautey, commander of the column of occupation, today announced that a squadron has been ordered to make a forced march to Oudja. The Sultan cannot reach Oudja before March 30. A battery of artillery and a battalion of zouaves have left Timenien for Lila Marana, on the Moroccan frontier.

Gen. Llautey has arrived at Sidi Bel Abbas and has taken charge of the military operations.

Ross Oscillating Pump Stock Jumps to $2.00 Per Share at Midnight, March 30

Positively Only Three Days More in Which to Buy It at $1.00 Per Share

Our Next Advance Will Doubtless Be to $5.00 Per Share

You Will Surely Be Glad to Buy it Later at $25.00 Per Share

This stock may be taken from the market at once. This week may end the sale of Ross Pump Stock. Many blocks of from $1000 to $10,000 will be sold this week. We have millions at our command, if terms can be made.

Would You Be Satisfied If You Knew that the Last Share had been Sold? And You Were Left Out?

NAPOLEON OF PUMPDOM HAS CONQUERED THE WORLD

There is nothing which succeeds like success. The world's demand is for the highest and the best. Man's greatness is determined by his merits and his achievements. The value of an invention is determined by two things. First, by the merits of the article to be manufactured; second, by the demand for the same.

The Ross Oscillating Pump is the simplest in structure, the highest in efficiency and capacity, has been tested and tried and is operated with minimum power.

Its demand is universal. For irrigating, mining, packinghouse and ice plants, for condensers upon the marine service, will modernize the fire-engine system and is the only pump that can successfully handle liquid asphalt.

At present one of these pumps is forcing fifty barrels per hour of 11 gravity oil to an elevation of 66 feet.

The Ross Oscillating Pump Co. was established in business strictly upon the merits of the pump. In six weeks' time the price of our stock has doubled three times. At present it is selling strong at $1.00 per share. Only a few days more remain in which to obtain stock at this price.

Would you be satisfied if you knew the last share had been sold? And you were left out? Would you have used the judgment of a shrewd financier, if you allow this opportunity to pass without investigating its merits?

Do you know of another opportunity such as we are offering for an investment? Which will bring such large, sure, immediate and continual income? Have you any reason for doubting the responsibility of our company, and the merits of our offer?

If what we advertise is true, would it not appeal to your best judgment? Have you ever met anyone who knows the Ross Oscillating Pump?

You must answer No! Emphatically No! I should surely buy stock at $1.00. Remember your last chance is this day, March 30th, at midnight.

Factory No. 1 Is Completed

Machinery is being installed. We can now show the investor where his money is being spent.

You cannot duplicate this offer for an investment upon the Pacific Coast. It is better than real estate. $1000 invested in real estate might increase 20 per cent.; perhaps 50 per cent. in value within a year. $1000 invested in Ross Oscillating Pump Stock will support a family for a life time, beside multiplying itself many times. Conservatively calculating the income to be received from the Pacific Coast factory, and from factories to be built in Chicago, Pittsburgh and New York, and the revenue to be derived from the sale of patent rights to foreign countries, we will doubtless be able to declare a large dividend on a valuation of $25.00 per share.

This Will Positively be the Last Week of This Great Opportunity

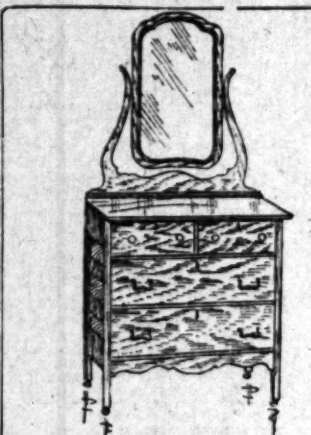

This will positively be the last week in which you will be able to buy Ross Oscillating Pump Stock at $1.00 per share. You will pay $2.00 per share at midnight, March 30. We believe the people of Los Angeles will believe what we say. In the past we have kept our promises. We have made wise statements, and we have been more careful in keeping them. An investment with us in the beginning might have been made in a speculation. But at the present and in the future we assure you there is no reason for doubting the safety of an investment with us. The duty of every financier is to invest his money, in the first place, where it will be safe. In the second place, where it will bring returns and cause him the least trouble. You need not be extremely wealthy in order to establish a fortune, if you will simply invest in the Ross Oscillating Pump Stock.

The foundations of the greatest fortunes in the world have been made by the fearless, conservative investment of a small amount of strong, mechanical, industrial stocks. We solicit the most careful and expert investigation of the responsibility of the Ross Oscillating Pump Co. We invite you to call at our beautiful and home-like offices in the Merchants' Trust Building, give you any information you desire with the utmost courtesy. Remember the time is short. Call, write, telephone, or wire your order. If your check, money-order or draft is sent before the raise in price of stock your order will be filled at $1.00 per share. Delay will be your opportunity. Send draft today. See full-page ads. in Los Angeles Times, Examiner, Herald, March 24. For further information address:

IT'S A HARD PROBLEM

To convince some people of the value of a stock until the price is so low that they are unable to invest in it. Then it's always: "I wish I had your advice."

Take our advice NOW and you will be in the Treasury Shares of THE JOSEPH BALL COPPER COMPANY at 45 cents per share net. The opportunity to obtain this price will soon be gone. Remember, that development work going on will result in a material advance in a short time, and that the company has an estate that grows to be enormously valuable.
